Nature Knows No Boundaries

Connected landscapes

Rob Williams, SLELO PRISM

Eastern Lake Ontario Invasive Species Symposium
June 2021
Tug Hill, Adirondacks, Algonquin, Catskills
150,000 Acres of the Blue Ridge to Boreal Landscape is within the Tug Hill Core Forest (1).

1 TNC:2004 Tug Hill Forest Owner's Handbook
The Appalachian Landscape

Same as Blue Ridge to Boreal

- A resilient and connected landscape with irreplaceable biodiversity
- Covers 25% of the eastern U.S. and holds well over half of its carbon stocks
- 16 States and 3 Canadian Provinces
1.61 million acres of surface water within the SLELO Region (2).

338 miles of surface water connects the Hudson River to Lake Erie through the Erie Canal (3).

---

2 SLELO PRISM Strategic Plan

3 eriecanalway.org
5.7 Million Acres

Are Protected as a Result of Our Invasive Species Prevention Efforts
In the spirit of nature, everything is connected

~Chantal van Ham

Thank you
rwilliams@tnc.org
Damselfly ©TNC-Rob Williams